As a recent expatriate to Dubai, I am looking for a volunteering opportunity which makes the most of my professional and academic skills. As a law graduate, I have spent time volunteering in legal clinics, specialising in children and families' rights. Specifically, for children with special needs to access appropriate education. I have also spent time volunteering with Citizen's Advice, which is a UK based charity which helps people in need access help from the government. Additionally, my law degree specialism was human rights.
